

[KANBANANZA] From sixth form to first year · 1 lesson

What changes at university?

How assignments change after school, and how to plan for your first term.

Do now: true or false?

4 min

1 You get more reminders about deadlines at university.

2 Several deadlines often land in the same week.

3 Referencing doesn't count in first year.

4 Each university sets its own rules about AI.

What changes

8 min

	At school or college	At university
Briefs	Explained in class.	Read them yourself, with the marking criteria.
Deadlines	A few, with reminders.	Several modules due in the same weeks.
Reading	A textbook and set sources.	A reading list, and finding your own sources.
Referencing	Sometimes a bibliography.	A set style, checked and marked.
AI rules	Set by your school.	Set by each university, often with a declaration.

Read a first-year brief 8 min

Critically evaluate the claim that social media has changed how young people take part in politics. 2,000 words, Harvard referencing, due 12:00, Friday 12 December via the module page. Marked against the level 4 criteria in the module handbook. Use at least eight academic sources.

Practice brief, written for this lesson.

Four modules, two weeks

Module 1

Essay

Fri 5 Dec

Module 2

Report

Tue 9 Dec

Module 3

Presentation

Thu 11 Dec

Module 4

Essay

Fri 12 Dec

Plan each one back from its deadline, and they stop landing on the same night.

Two rules to find in week one 5 min

Your referencing style

It may be Harvard, APA, OSCOLA or another. It can differ between modules.

peel.kanbananza.com/guides

The AI rules

What is allowed, what isn't, and what you have to declare. Keep a note of any help you used.

Your turn: build a first term board 10 min

Module 1	Module 2	Module 3	Reading	Admin

Or use the First term board at kanbananza.com

Exit ticket

5 min

- 1 Name two things that change at university.
- 2 Where will you find your referencing style?
- 3 What will you put on your board in week one?

Take your board with you. Start it in your first week.